Father DARKLEAF'S Column

BY C.H.R.

Speaking of this and that and thus and so, Father Darkleaf and his typewriter slither into a huddle and here's a colyum a-coming atya.

• • •

You know, folks, much in life depends on the point of view. Take the case of the farmer who was ready to give up in despair and asked a real estate agent to sell his farm since he couldn't make a living on it. He'd go someplace else. So the agent looked over the farm and wrote up a sale notice . . . and when the farmer read it he was amazed at what wonderful advantages his farm had so he decided not to sell. Sit down and list your assets.

• • •

Say, don't let anyone kid you by saying that they don't read the county paper. For instance, last Friday night. Notice of the music contest here was given nowhere else save in this paper. Not a poster—no other announcement. And something like 1,200 people, some from 30 miles, came! You bet your aunt Emma's bustle they read every line of the home paper!

• • •

See bythe Lynchburg papers that Father Darkleaf is going to the Democratic convention in Chicago. Really now, is someone trying to kid me . . . the nearest to Chicago I have ever been or am likely to get is Stapleton.

• • •

Doc Aubrey Williams is holding a revival down at the Baptist church this week and in case it helps his reputation any, it was under his preaching one that a youngster of 10 "joined church" and ended up a-doing this colyum.

• • •

This guy Taylor who gave sex talks in Lynchburg recently, claims that Tunney never did beat Jack Dempsey . . . but the real trouble was Estelle Taylor. . . . Well stuff, pampered husband ain't half the fighter a guy is when he's on vacay and maid 'Nfurthermore, who says Tun ney licked Jack at Chicago? The same guys probably claim Sharkey won Chooseday night. Alackaday.

• • •

Lots of folks use Blue Buckle Alley without knowing what its name is . . . so the time to announce teachers for next year . . . one Civil War Vet was down by seven in the dawning this week ready to catch the 11:50 train to Richmond for the reunion . . . Mr. Otis Hannah made his own instrument played here Friday night . . . J. G. Phelps makes 'em too . . . Buckingham court house is reveling in booming tourist business . . . an average of 1,000 post-card booklets of Surrender Ground scenes are sold here each year . . . who ever paid a green fee at the Appomattox Country Club . . . what merchant closed up a day to attend the reunion . . . new postmaster here July 1 . . . There are about 200 Republicans in this county . . . two orchestras played at Riverview last night . . . and can that Dickerson girl float . . . what local man won't fly to Chicago after all but is still a Byrd-man . . . there won't be a fence around the court house for another year . . . local jail being remodled inside . . . I've never seen the inside . . . what attorney's car has been over 46,000 miles . . . say, whatja tink dis is, a gossip column?

• • •

Here's 'oping Harry Flood Byrd will fly all over Chicago.

• • •

Soon be time for the relatives to start their annual summer visiting.

• • •

I'll take plenty of ice in mine, thank you.

• • •

Dewberries for canning and preserving have appeared in this section. They are being offered for sale for as low as 20 cents for a water bucket full.

• • •

June 21 official first day of summer.

• • •

Planning to do lots of canning?

Sign-Up Drive To End As Fate Of Ass'n Pends

Leaders Meet In Farmville; Need Seventy-five Per Cent Acreage

Saturday, June 25, will mark the closing of the sign-up drive of the Dark-Fired Tobacco Growers Association for tobacco acreage and a meeting of leaders will be held in Farmville to decide whether or not the association will organize. Tremendous importance is attached to this meeting and the decision will be closely watched. Many hold that the issue of whether or not the association will be formed will largely determine economic prospects in this section for a number of years.

Although no statement has been issued, it is thought that virtually the required seventy-five per cent sign-up has been secured and that organization can proceed. This may depend, however, upon last-minute contracts signed today and tomorrow in the fourteen counties of the belt. C. T. Moses, local campaign chairman, says the balance of power is clearly in the hands of the non-signers and that they and they alone will be responsible if the association fails to get the necessary acreage.

The drive was originally intended to end nearly two months ago so organization could get under way, but was extended due to the slowness of farmers in signing the contracts.

Colored Lads Get Chance

Over Thirty are Entered In Novel Old-Time Music Event

Will Dedicate Camp Winona With Impressive Service On June 26

Hear ye, hear ye, people of Appomattox and Buckingham Tomorrow night at 8 P. M., at the local high school auditorium over thirty fiddlers, banjo artists, guitar adicts, and perhaps a piccolo player or so, will vie for the mythical musicians's championship of this section. It's a grand and glorious "free-for-all", sponsored by the Times-Virginian. No admissio is charged, although a free-will offering will be taken. Every one is invited to attend and indications are that only the "early birds" will get seats.

Players can perform either as groups or as individuals. Groups from Buckingham, Enonville, Gladstone, Appomattox, Evergreen and elsewhere are entered. Players are requested to report at the stage at 7:45.

Judges will select the best musicians. Judges will be: J. H. O'Brien, F. T. Cawthorn, Miss Cornelia Gills, Rev. R. E. Redding, and one other yet to be named.

The audience will be asked to select the most popular tune. Two colored boys will contribute fancy jig dances. A male quartet is being groomed. A three-year-old child will sing. As a grand finale all the players will unite in a mighty burst of melody.

The first event of its kind ever held in this section of Virginia, the music fete tomorrow nightis the talk of this section. Noted for its singing conventions the days of the glamorous Joe Sweeney, Appomattox and Buckingham have taken the chance to select and crown its star performers. Anyone who likes a real old-time show and wants to tuck away their cares for an hour or so, . . . well, we'll be seeing you out there in the audience tomorrow night. That's a date!
